It has helped me learn time management, as well as the importance of teamwork. Good enough company to work for. It has also taught me how to help my coworkers even if I have to go out of my way. Fast paced, stressful, long hours sometimes no break. Definitely get their monies worth! They promote people based on favouritism and not performance. Owner of the company was a very likeable guy and appreciated his staff and would greet everyone who was on shift. The company also handled the pandemic extremely well and did it's best to ensure staff retained their jobs and pay, with regular updates from the owner. Free meals, great team, fortnighly pay, man management. Monotonous work, poor pay for team leaders and assistant managers. Was this review helpful? Kitchen Staff Member (Former Employee) - Manchester - 19 November 2020Told to serve rotten food by kitchen managers. helpful?Team Leader (Former Employee) - Trafford Centre, Greater Manchester - 28 July 2020Good management, flexible hours, not good enough wage for the amount of work though. Constant guilt trips if you don't stay on or cover shifts which is constant. Free meals, can work with some great peopleLong hours, rubbish pay, no progression, strong favouritism, never enough staffWas this review helpful?YesThere are 1 helpful reviews1Rate your recent companyShare your experience to help othersTeam Leader (Former Employee) - Trafford centre - 2 May 2021This was the only job I have ever been sad to say goodbye to.My manager was an absolute gem, I learned so much from him and the assistant managers. This makes the sales dive which is pretty much counterproductive. The experience also gave me new and loyal friends. Was this review helpful? Supervisor/Team Leader (Former Employee) - Manchester, Greater Manchester - 11 December 2019you will work hard, make lots of friends, learn new skills, work hard, get involved with marketing promotions, work hard, lots of staff incentives, work hard, they were a great employerWas this review helpful? Team Member (Former Employee) - Edinburgh - 7 December 2019The level of work depends on the time of day. A lot of the staff including management within that store had a very unwarranted high sense of superiority over us because they recieved better audits which is obviously going to happen when your store is the size of a burger van. It also includes handling customer complaints. Don't get paid for breaks. Longs shifts. Not a great environment. Overall It was a good place to work in as my team were always lively and fun to work with and they always had my back or each others backs. Pay wasn't great eitherWas this review helpful?YesThere are 1 helpful reviews1Team Member (Former Employee) - Bristol, Bristol - 14 September 2019The atmosphere can be good or bad. So it was always manageable and easy! You get staff benefits and awards weekly or monthly depending how well you worked, Free staff meals. Was this review helpful? General Manager (Former Employee) - Aberdeen - 17 March 2020 Very cliquie that all said and made up stuff. Crew gets rewarded and praised. Was this review helpful? Seistant Manager (Former Employee) - Manchester - 26 July 2020 Its been quite a while since i left but i remember with pleasure my experience there. Good working and fast pased environment. However the free staff meals are a great perk. Has its downfalls like late nights, busy times but overall good job. You just need to be a hardworking individual. Was this review helpful? Assistant Manager (Former Employee) - Liverpool, Merseyside - 24 January 2020 Area manager not really sure what she's doing had a really good manager at one time and the company was thriving for sales year on year labour was always good and we seemed to always beat competitors then that manager left and was left in very incapable hands and it's gone very downhill since then a mere shell of its former self products not available staff jewellery in ears and nose the dining room is always a mess there's no magic moments anymore they don't explain the menu the training is poor as I see staffWas this review helpful? YesThere are 1 helpful reviews1Sales Consultant (Current Employee) - Liverpool - 19 December 2019Job includes serving customers, taking deliveries and getting them ready on time with minimum error. Of course hospitality jobs can be difficult but this is one of the only places ive come accross that actually cares about work life balance and the team morale. The general staff were all amazing people but I think this was mainly due to the store manager having a zero tolerance policy on people who were not team players. The work was admittedly monotonous, but we always had a laugh completing it. My only issue with the place was that we had a smaller store within the Trafford centre which we prepped a lot of their food as they didn't have the facilities to do it. Just need to give more hours, to be able to get everything that they want done on time / not to effect customer service and cleanlinessWas this review helpful? The tasks and job role you do doesn't really change much and it does get less motivating for me to stay here longer. Also lots of audits so employees are regularly stressed and under pressure. Sometimes work could be very stressful, other times too slow. Management team appreciated the hard workers and we all worked as a team through some pretty stressful days in the Trafford centre. Most of them part of a team of wasters hiding the fact they are fake................Was this review helpful? Crew Member (Former Employee) - Manchester - 26 February 2020The hardest part of the job is preparing food during busy hours and closing the restaurant on time. Can be repetitive but pretty easy when you know what you're doing. Was this review helpful? Usually, everyone worked well together as part of a team. Was this review helpful? Team Leader (Former Employee) - Aberdeen - 21 September 2019It was a good place to work however no work life balance, lots of hours overtime was not always paid or hours weren't given back. Was this review helpful?Kitchen Crew (Current Employee) - Rotherham - 13 February 2022lazy managers, but fun and friendly staff always a laugh never a dull moment, fast paced but managable. Sometimes we would fight, argue and get annoyed with each other but we always came back to work the next day like nothing happened, we were like a family. Great and friendly staff but sometimes too sales focused which is a detriment to the atmosphere of the shop. Fairly easy to work your way up if your head is in it. Feedback about my performance was very constructive I always felt like I was learning something despite the criticism sometimes. Pay is pretty decent too. Was this review helpful? In my first week i was called obscenities, i was told personal details of peoples private lives and health problems by the manager, spoken to more rudely then other other job ive ever had. However work is hard and they try to cut staff to keep costs low meaning more work. No-one wants to buy and work in a stressful environment. Training was great and support there when you need it. Too many changes in the management teams. Was this review helpful? Team leader (Former Employee) - Manchester - 24 July 2020I was hired as a team leader, to state training is minimal is a huge overstatement as their was literally zero. Other than that, maintaining the cleanliness in the dinning area. Also witness managers coming into work under the influence of drugs, but when this was reported to the manager he said he doesnt mind as long as he works.
